

The 2013 Ofsted report on RE, "Religious Education: realising the potential", suggests

"using the approach of a philosophical enquiry can deepen and extend pupils' investigation into religion".

"In the most effective RE teaching, enquiry is based at the heart of the learning".

Discovery RE promotes this enquiry approach and allows children to develop knowledge, critical thinking skills, open minded and respectful attitude with which to investigate the world of religion and beliefs, and make their own decisions about what this means to them, whilst empathising with what it means to those who hold those beliefs.

For further details please see

<https://discoveryschemeofwork.com/wp-content/uploads/2017/07/Discovery-RE-for-parents.pdf>